Breach in Valuation Plan Seen

Manufacturers and Business Interests in State Split On Issue

TREATY FOES GAIN

La Follette Opposition To Four Power Pact Gains New Adherents

Washington Bureau, The Capital Times.

WASHINGTON D. C.—A breach over the tariff question between manufacturers and business interests was reflected here this week in telegrams and letters received by Madison members of Congress from manufacturing interests at Madison, Milwaukee, La Crosse, and other cities of the state, protesting against the elimination of the American valuation plan carried in the House Bill.

The retailers in these and other cities of the state are almost solidly opposed to American valuation. Many manufacturers who do not fear competition from abroad and are dependent upon imported raw material are opposed to the plan. Apparently a majority of the manufacturers, however, are in favor of the American valuation plan.

Telegrams and letters were received by Wisconsin members this week, demanding the American valuation, from George Vets, president, The Aluminum Goods Manufacturing Co., Manitowish; West Bend Woolen Mills, Enger Kress Pockethook Co., Cooley Manufacturing Co., West Bend Aluminum Co., Gehl Brothers Manufacturing Co., Amity Leather Products Co., West Bend Equipment Co., Schmidt and Stork Co., all of West Bend; Wisconsin Pearl Button Co., D. W. MacWillie, president; Smith Manufacturing Co., B. C. Smith, secretary; La Crosse Knitting Co., C. N. Harrington, secretary-treasurer; Star Knitting Co., A. S. Farnam, president.

Sharp issue with the above letters was taken this week by H. F. Miles, of Racine, chairman of the Fair Tariff League, who wrote Senator McCumber, charging that American workmen are being urged to sign petitions urging Congress to adopt the American valuation clause of the pending tariff bill.

The Wisconsin tariff expert states that "prepared petitions are being sent to manufacturers throughout the country by the American Valuation association, of New York, accompanied by scare circulars telling the workmen their jobs are in danger."

"The falsely labeled American valuation clause in the Fordney tariff bill is not in accord with the principle of American production, which permits super-protective and unreasonable rates, constituting an attempted steal of two billion dollars minimum—an assault on the pocketbook of every American."

"The petitions which are now being sent out for workmen to sign will be considered as it significantly by 30 over-protected manufacturers, the executive committee of the American Valuation association, twenty-six of whom have been shown by analysis of the Fair Tariff League to have a virtual monopoly of our market at their own prices, except for the temporary human situation which the counsel of this association has concocted can be corrected by the American valuation clause."

And so the American workmen," Miles adds, "is being asked to support American valuation with knowledge of its meaning, and in the belief that it is essential to the principle of protection, which in fact has never recognized."

La Follette and Sen. Lenroot again found in opposing camps this week when Senator Lodge before the Senate the Four Power Pact which is already under

Daggett, Ex-Service Man, Seeks Sheriff's Office of County

Joseph Daggett.

Joseph Daggett today announced himself a candidate for sheriff of Dane county. He is the fourth candidate to announce himself. Mr. Daggett is well known in Madison and vicinity, having been born and raised in Madison, where he is a resident and a taxpayer.

Graduated from the public schools here, he entered high school and later became associated with the L. F. Collins Co., of Madison as a vehicle salesman. After a number of years with this concern he accepted a position with the Wisconsin Carriage Co., Janesville, and completed 14 years as a salesman. He covered the territory of Illinois, Michigan, Iowa and Minnesota.

During the border trouble, together with Major George O'Connell and James Clark, he organized Company A, independent company of infantry, to replace Company G, then in the service. The 78 men enlisted in Company A later went into various branches of the service. Daggett resigned his first lieutenantcy to become a private in Company G, under Capt. O'Connell. He was made a sergeant by order of Col. Joachim of the First Wisconsin infantry. He served 23 months, part of which was spent overseas.

He is a member of the American Legion, the 127th Infantry Veterans' association and the 32d Division association. He has never held a public office.

Strict enforcement of the law, solicitation of notifications of infractions of the law, and better treatment of prisoners are the planks in the platform on which Mr. Daggett seeks election.

New Pharmacy To Be Opened By F. Detloff

Will Occupy Varsity Cafe Site; New Restaurant is Planned

A new pharmacy is to be opened at the corner of Park st. and University ave., where the Varsity cafe is now located, by F. A. Detloff, Madison pharmacist, and Frank W. Pech, who has been employed in the downtown pharmacy for the past eight years. The Varsity cafe, owned by the Lawrence Lunch Co., will go out of business and the fixtures have been sold to Paul Kundert and Arthur Pledger, Madison, who will open a restaurant in the old Fitch undertaking parlors, at W. Main and Fairchild sts. Kundert was formerly with the State st. One Minute lunch.

According to Mr. Pech, the new drug store will be ready for business about May 1. The Detloff pharmacy will remain at its same location, E. Main and Pinckney sts.

Mr. Kundert and Mr. Pledger will open their cafe about March 10, it was stated today.

Fiume Government is Overthrown After Fight

FIUME.—The committee of national defense proclaimed the overthrow of the provisional government under Pres. Zanella and the constituent assembly today. The government capitulated after fierce fighting. The committee, upon assuming power, asked the Italian government to send a representative to administer the government of the city until quiet is restored.

Moose Lodge Has Taken No Stand On Politics

"The Moose lodge has taken no stand to support Clarence E. Bulard as a candidate for sheriff," Hans Hilsenhoff, dictator, said today. "The lodge never takes a stand politically," he said.

Pretty Girls In Dance Hall Prove To Be Bandits; Polite Escort is Relieved of His Coin

"Stick 'Em Up, Honey," Cooes Beauty and Flourishes Gun; Second Man Also Robbed by Titian Haired Queen

(By The Associated Press) T. Taylor, at a public dance hall early today, requested the pleasure of escorting two comely girls home and they consented. Several blocks away at a dark corner one of the girls softly said: "Stick 'em up, honey, and hold 'em high," punctuating her remarks with a pistol. The other girl caressingly removed $35 from Taylor's pockets and they bade him a fond good-night. Meanwhile P. A. Downer, not far in the dance hall, met a titian haired woman who relieved him of $19 in cash, $260 in postal savings certificates and $12 in checks while menacing him with a revolver.

Co-op Society Trustees Will Quit, Ruling

Litigation Settled Out of Court; Parker to Remain

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO — All federal court proceedings implicating the Cooperative Society of America will be dropped, Judge Evans announced today after being informed that attorneys on both sides had reached an agreement out of court. The society came into court as a result of bankruptcy proceedings brought against it.

Under the agreement, all trustees of the society except Harrison Parker, leader in the cooperative organization will resign to be replaced by appointees of Judge Evans. Capital stock and all assets of subsidiary corporations, including the Great Western Securities Co., and the Co-operators of America, organized after the bankruptcy petition against the parent body had been filed, will be turned over to the new trustees. Out of this fund will come all legal expenses of the proceedings and claims of the petitioning creditors, who will be paid on the basis of 50 cents on the dollar. The claims of these creditors amounted to approximately $35,000.

Middleton Man Fined $500 in Liquor Trial

(Candidate for Congress)

Ban Liquor For Firemen While on Duty

Fire Fighter Charged With Abuse is Fined 10 Days' Pay

Liquor will not be permitted Madison's fire fighters while on duty in the future, the board of police and fire commissioners, decided last night, and that body passed a resolution which will be sent to the police chief and the fire chief, instructing and advising them of the board's action in the matter. The action followed the investigation of a case of a member of the Central fire company, who it is alleged became abusive to his superior officer during the Kornhauser store fire recently.

The man, who has been reinstated, was reprimanded by the board, and fined 10 days' pay. Another offense of this kind will cost him his job, the board declared. It developed during the investigation that the reprimanded fireman had imbibed too much liquor while on duty.

Liquor which was said to have been supplied by medical attention present. The board members said none other than the designated city physician should be present at fires. Fireman Gaher has not yet handed in his resignation from the police force, as was asked by Chief Thomas Shaughnessy, but the board members will no longer consider him a member of the force and will take up Chief Shaughnessy's request for a man to fill his place. Three candidates for the police force were accepted by the board last night and ordered to report to the chief. They are: Fred Schain, 1314 E. Wilson st.; E. L. Miller, 2015 Fair Oaks ave., and John F. Shore.

Classic Stock Show of Year Opens Tonight

Prominent Guests to Attend U. W. Livestock Exposition

The Little International Live Stock show, a student exposition of university herds and flocks, will be held in the Stock pavilion at 7:30 this evening.

The show is considered the classic live stock event of this section of the country and will be attended by prominent men from all parts of the United States. Proceeds of the exposition are used to finance the student stock judging teams that compete with other colleges at the national live stock shows every year.

Many prominent guests will attend the exposition. Invitations have been sent to Gov. John J. Blaine, Lieut. Gov. George Comings, Secretary E. S. Hall, State Treasurer Henry Johnson, the heads of the different state departments, Pres. E. A. Birge, Dean H. L. Russell, and to 35 heads of various live stock organizations. President Birge and his party will occupy a box near the center of the arena.

Judging of the animals will take place in the afternoon. Awards will be based on the amount of improvement that was made in the animals and on the students' ability in the show ring. The Madison public is invited to witness the judging free of charge. An admission of 50 cents will be charged to see the show in the evening.

The evening show consists of a grand parade of university herds and flocks, demonstration horse riding, triple bar jumping, inter-society riding contest, a mounted wrestling match between the Madison guard and the university cadets, broncho busting, and special features by the different student organizations. The special features will be held in the form of a three ring circus so that all parts of the audience may be entertained at the same time. Music will be furnished by the Second Regimental band.

Keen competition is anticipated in the inter-society riding contest for the silver cup that will be awarded to the winning sorority. Seven sororities are entered in the contest. Work-outs have been held daily in the Stock pavilion.

Much speculation is current among agriacs as to who is the best milker, in the dairy maid contest. Co-eds will actually compete to see who can milk a cow in the shortest time.

FINED $5.

Segerin Thorson, Madison, pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was fined $5 and costs in superior court this morning.

Treasurer Only Place Not Filled

Follows Series of Conferences of Progressive Leaders

SEVERSON STAYS OUT

Agrees He Can Render Greater Service By Staying in Legislature

The following candidacies for the coming campaign were announced here today:

Herman L. Ekern, Madison, announced his candidacy for attorney general.

Fred R. Zimmerman, Milwaukee, announced his candidacy for secretary of state.

Elmer S. Hall, secretary of state, announced his candidacy for member of congress from the Ninth district to succeed Congressman Classon.

These candidacies are the result of a series of conferences that have been held here since the first of the year in which Senator La Follette, Gov. Blaine and many other progressive leaders have participated. The names of Mr. Ekern was first brought up for consideration as a candidate for attorney general when it was held that progressive leadership in the legislature would suffer if Senator H. J. Severson were to leave the senate to become attorney general. Up to a week ago, Senator Severson had been looked upon as the logical candidate for attorney general.

Senator Severson was in Madison during the past week and participated in the conferences which led to the selection of Ekern as a candidate. Senator Severson agreed that he could render the progressive movement a greater service by remaining in the legislature and he will again be a candidate for state senator in his district this fall. The developments of the week will leave the progressive slate as follows:

Governor—John J. Blaine, Rosobol.
Lieutenant Governor—George F. Comings, Eau Claire.
Secretary of State—Fred R. Zimmerman, Milwaukee.
Attorney General—Herman L. Ekern, Madison.
State Treasurer—Open.
No action has been taken on state treasurer as yet. Sol Lewiston of Madison is the leading candidate mentioned for this place on the ticket.

Zimmerman was chosen as the candidate for secretary of state in order to give Milwaukee representation on the ticket. Mr. Zimmerman is a former member of the legislature and was a delegate to the last republican national convention elected from the Fifth congressional district. He has always been a strong supporter of La Follette and the progressive movement.

The decision of Elmer Hall to run for congress came with the announcement that Congressman Classon would not be a candidate for re-election. Mr. Hall is from Green Bay and is exceedingly popular in the ninth district.

Herman L. Ekern, the candidate for attorney general, is a well known figure in Wisconsin progressive circles. From the time that he was elected district attorney of Trempealeau county in 1894 until the present time Mr. Ekern has always been identified with the progressive movement.

He was born in Pigeon, Trempealeau county.

Church Tied to Chair Dies on Gallows

Mumbles Prayer; Chair But Not Neck is Broken in Fall

CHICAGO—Harvey W. Church, strapped to a chair, dropped through the trap at the county jail at 8:50 o'clock Friday afternoon and ten minutes later was dead of strangulation. The force of the drop broke the chair but did not dislocate his neck.

Thus ended the career of one of the most cold blooded murderers in the criminal history of Chicago, to save whose life the most frantic efforts were made by various attorneys.

Alienists have claimed all along that Church was simulating insanity and this was proven by the fact he shook off his stupor on the way to the gallows and, during his last moments in the death chamber, called for his parents and his sister.

On his way to the gallows he perspired freely and, after the noose and cap had been adjusted, he began to pray. At first he mumbled, but his voice became stronger and he repeated the Lord's prayer distinctly.

Then he lapsed into silence again, the signal was given and the trap was sprung. These were the first words he had spoken for forty-six days since he began his hunger strike.

Other prisoners in the jail did not stage their usual hideous clamor of obscenity, profanity and rattling of cell doors. Heretofore this has been one of the features of an execution, but this time everything was silent.

Hunt Opposes Autocrats in Sermon Tomorrow

"There is a Christian program," said Dr. Geo. E. Hunt, in speaking of his sermon for tomorrow evening at Christ Church, "for the decent administration of government in the interest of the common people instead of in the interest of the politicians and the autocrat, and I will attempt to prove this fact in my sermon, 'The Meaning of the Kingdom of Heaven to Politics.'"

Dr. Chas. H. Miller, director of the University of Wisconsin School of Music will play another of his Sunday evening organ recitals beginning at 7:15 o'clock. Everyone is invited. The quartette at Christ Church, under the direction of Dr. Miller, will sing Gounod's "Gallia," as announced tomorrow morning, due to the indisposition of one of the members of the quartette but will render this number the following Sunday. Sunday morning, March 19th, Stainer's "Crucifixion" will be given and Easter Sunday morning the quartette will render "The Paschal Victim" by J. Sebastian Matthews. Members of the Christ Church quartette are Mrs. Andrew T. Weaver, soprano; Miss Martha Chandler, contralto; W. L. Miller, tenor; and Emerson H. Cole, bass.

Milwaukee and N. W. Roads Cut Rate to West

CHICAGO—Homeseeker rates which will be granted twice a month to practically all points west beginning March 7, was announced here today by the Milwaukee and the Northwestern roads, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and the Rock Island lines. The new rates will be reduced to nearly one-half the regular rate and will be based on a one way fare plus $2 for a round trip ticket. The tickets will be good for 21 days and stopovers will be permitted. The Northwestern and Milwaukee railways will sell tickets to northern Wisconsin resorts at one and one-half fares for the round trip.

Goethals May Rebuild Muscle Shoals Project

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Gen. George W. Goethals, builder of the Panama canal, will take charge of the development of the government water projects at Muscle Shoals, to the event the offer of Frederick E. Engstrom, N. C. shipbuilder and engineer, for lease and completion of the properties is accepted by congress. It was announced on Friday, Gen. Goethals already has agreed to accept the task of completing the great dam at Muscle Shoals and other projects there for Mr. Engstrom.

1500 to See Madison High Play Tonight

"The Servant in the House," a five act play to be presented by Madison high school students in the school auditorium, will play before a capacity house of 1,500 Saturday night if advance sale of tickets is an indication. A dress rehearsal has been held. New curtains and scenery have been purchased by the school for the production which is one of the most difficult ever attempted by the high school.

Lloyd George Suspends His Threat to Quit

Claim Solicitation of Colleagues in Cabinet Cause of Action

LONDON—Premier Lloyd George's threat to resign has been suspended at the solicitation of his cabinet colleagues, in the cabinet, according to an authoritative statement Friday night, but no jurisdiction for its withdrawal is said to exist as yet.

Official denial is made that any exact time limit has been fixed for receiving assurances of loyalty to the premier from the adherents of Sir George Younger, the unionist leader, although it is added that obviously the tension can not be extended indefinitely.

Meanwhile there is no indication of any movement on the part of the unionist party to depose Younger as its head.

Not the slightest repugnance has yet been shown by the "die hard" conservatives, whose opposition to the leadership of the premier is primarily responsible for the present crisis.

Taylor to Talk On Siamese Twins Sunday

O. W. Taylor, pastor of the First Methodist church, will begin a series of evening sermons on popular subjects in which he will discuss some personal problems of every day experience tomorrow night. The subject for tomorrow night will be "Siamese Twins," a parable of life, in which the story of Mr. Barnum's Siamese Twins will be used as an illustration of the fact that every man has to live with himself, the man inside of himself, a real person from whom he can never escape for a single hour. An attractive feature of the service will be three special musical numbers by a men's large chorus.

Jewish Students to Resume Work Tomorrow

The Jewish Students' association of the university will resume its meetings on Sunday at the Woman's building at 7:30 p.m. The purpose of this society is to develop the policy of more concrete religious education; that is, by being of a universal religious character and not sectarian in its scope. Prof. L. B. Wolfson will address the organization on "The Scientific Character of Judaism." He will explain how Judaism is free from mysticism in its fundamentals.

Increase In 1922 Property Tax is Slight

Boosts From $29.10 to $29.20 Per $1,000, Report Today

The increase in the general property tax in Wisconsin this year is slight, the rate increasing from $29.10 to $29.20 per $1,000, the tax commission announced today. In the state 58 cities increased their tax rate in 1921 over 1920, while in 32 cities the rate was lower, and in 17 the same in both 1921 and 1920.

The bulletin shows that the total 1921 general property tax levy for all cities is but $71,000 greater in 1921 than in 1920, an increase of less than one-half of 1 per cent. The per capita general property tax decreased from $9.15 to $8.21. Augusta and Greenwood, Wis., had the two highest local tax rates with $52.90 and $52.80 per thousand dollars.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Put On Good Old Musterole

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which restores circulation promptly and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, it does the work without the mustard plaster's sting and blister.

During the "Flu" epidemic a few years ago Musterole was used in our training camps. The Y. M. C. A. War Board sent thousands of jars to France for our soldiers overseas.

Doctors have been recommending it to their patients for years for colds, aches and pains. Just rub it on with your finger tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

Your druggist has Musterole; 25c and 65c, in jars and tubes; hospital size $3.00.—Adv.

attack as an alliance linking this country with Great Britain, France, and Japan in the Orient.

The speech delivered at Milwaukee ten days ago by Sen. La Follette only confirmed the Senator's opposition to the alliance which he had announced in Washington in a formal statement some weeks ago. Sen. La Follette was the first Republican Senator to announce his opposition to the pact, but Senators Borah, Johnson, and France have since taken the same stand and it is believed here there is a chance that the Senators Norris and Ladd may also oppose the treaty. These Republican Senators, with the Democratic opposition which has already developed could prevent ratification.

Sen. Lenroot voted this week for ratification of the Yapt treaty and he has been known from the first that he would vote with the other "regulars" for all the treaties submitted by the conference. Sen. Lenroot voted twice for the League of Nations, favoring only "mild reservations" and his support of the Four Power Alliance has been assured. Along with Senators Newberry, Hale, Kellogg, and other Senators in the "regular" camp who were "mild reservationists" in the League of Nations fight, Sen. Lenroot is being relied upon by the administration to supply the votes necessary for ratification.

Nearly all communication received from Wisconsin in reference to the Four Power Alliance are opposed to its ratification. Sen. La Follette has received hundreds of letters from all parts of the state endorsing his stand and attacking the treaty as an "entangling" agreement likely to involve the United States in the imperialistic schemes of the great military and naval powers in the Pacific.

W. A. Nutting, secretary-treasurer of the La Crosse division No. 61, Order of Railway Conductors, has written Wisconsin members in behalf of his local urging the enactment of the La Follette estate tax bill.

The bill has been endorsed by labor organizations all over the country opposed to the sales tax and favoring an increase on inheritance taxes as a method of raising necessary revenue.

W. T. Rawleigh, president of the W. T. Rawleigh Co., Freeport, Illinois, a native of Wisconsin, and well known in Madison, spent the past week in Washington. Mr. Rawleigh was a progressive leader in the Illinois legislature several years ago, and is one of the largest manufacturers of medicinal preparations in the U. S. Mr. Rawleigh has taken a strong stand against the American valuation plan and the proposed dye embargo.

"It is ridiculous, from a purely business standpoint," Mr. Rawleigh declared here today, "to suppose that we can maintain our foreign trade at the same time bar the products of other lands from this country by a prohibitive tariff. The erection of a Chinese wall against products like German dyes, will favor their entrenchment in this country and destroy our commerce abroad."

Greenbush Once Was Madison's Most Beautiful Section

Greenbush addition to Madison is almost as old as Madison itself, but the origin of the name, "Greenbush," is known to very few Madison men and women. In the records kept in the city engineer's office there is no clue to the origin of the name, but old settlers tell of the time when the section of the city was covered with thick vegetation, mostly of a shrubby nature.

Sixty years ago, they say, it was the most beautiful section of the city, abundant with trees and low verdant bushes. It was platted on Oct. 8, 1854, and includes that territory bounded by Erin st. on the south, Milton st. on the north, Mills st. on the west, and Murray st. and Lake Monona Bay on the east.

In those early times, there was little chance for a great variety of names for plats and additions to the city. Being a remarkably verdant section, and beautiful to the eye, it is believed that its name was thusly derived, and placed in the records of the city.

Would Revive Four Inch State Horn Law

The four-inch horn law, for which the one year old buck law was substituted, should again be enacted, in the opinion of Chairman W. E. Barber of the state conservation commission. Mr. Barber believes the four inch horn law is the only safe line of demarcation in distinguishing a fawn from a year old deer.

Merchant Spring Expo Planned March 16-18

Madison will have a spring exposition this month. The success of the fall festival last year was so great that Madison display men, backed by the merchants of the city, have planned another event. Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 16, 17 and 18, are the days set for the exposition. Live models brilliant displays of spring goods in all lines concert bands and special entertainments will feature the event.

CURED HIS RHEUMATISM!

"I am eighty-three years old and I doctored for rheumatism ever since I came out of the army, over 50 years ago. Like many others, I spent money freely for so-called 'cures' and I have read about 'Uric Acid' until I could almost taste it. I could not sleep nights or walk without pain; my hands were so sore and stiff I could not hold a pen. But now I am again in active business and can walk with ease or write all day with comfort. Friends are surprised at the change." You might just as well attempt to put out a fire with oil as try to get rid of your rheumatism, neuritis and like complaints by taking treatment supposed to drive Uric Acid out of your blood and body. It took Mr. Ashelman fifty years to find out the truth. He learned how to get rid of the true cause of his rheumatism, other disorders, and by doctors and scientists for centuries 'Mysterium,' now being distributed free by an authority who devoted over twenty years to the scientific study of this trouble. If any reader of 'The Capital Times' wishes 'The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism' overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries, simply send a post card or letter to H. P. Clearwater, No. 315-L Street, Hallowell, Maine. Send now, lest you forget! If not a sufferer, cut out this notice and hand this good news and opportunity to some afflicted friend. All who send will receive it by return mail without any charge whatever.—Adv.

FRANKLIN SIX

TAKE the wheel yourself in this demonstration for any kind of a cross-examination you wish to make of the car on the following points:

How does it compete as a road car with anything you know?

And for easy handling has it any equal?

How do flexibility and light weight affect comfort as well as economy?

What about the simplicity of air cooling in all seasons compared with water cooling's complications and troubles?

Those are practical questions and important ones to many people. Leaving the answers entirely to the car is proving popular and profitable.

O'Connell Is Not Cand. date For Mayoralty

Denies He Will Oppose Kittleson; Breitenbach Files Papers

Col. George F. O'Connell, commander of Co. G overseas during the war, will not oppose Mayor L. M. Kittleson in the coming election, he said today on his return from New Orleans, where he attended a service men's meeting. It was said today that nomination papers for Col. O'Connell were circulated in his absence.

Col. O'Connell declared that if the reports were true, they were circulated without his authority. George H. Breitenbach, Madison grocer, took out nomination papers, and will become a candidate for alderman from the third ward. The present incumbent of the short term seat in the council, Ald. W. F. Maizis, has declined to become a candidate again.

A. R. Rhode, 118 S. Pinckney st., will receive the support of the Fifth Ward Voters' League, it was said today. The League was recently organized. Mr. Rhode was an American express agent here for seven years, and has lived in Madison for the past 12 years. During almost half of that time he has been a taxpayer in the fifth ward. He has a wife, and two children in high school.

Business depression, apparently due to mean anything to the Ritter Automobile Co., local Franklin representative who has been informed by the company that he is one of Franklin's agents to show increased business in 1921. Results are for business for the full twelve months, and are based on the number cars taken from the factory. H. R. Ritter is quoted over the home which came to him during a year which everyone regarded as one of the slowest from a business standpoint in the last decade. "It is the car that made the record," Mr. Ritter said. "The Franklin car with its economy features is becoming more appealing to the general public every day."

New Cement Bid Will Save State $68,000

Reduction in Price On 400,000 Barrels Accepted by Hirst

The state highway commission has saved $68,000 by accepting the bid of $1.30 on 400,000 barrels of cement, a reduction of 17 cents from the bids originally offered by cement companies in January. A. R. Hirst, state highway engineer, announced.

While but a portion of the cement needed to build the 400 miles of concrete highway planned by the commission is available at this price, enough can be obtained to complete construction where imperative, Mr. Hirst said. He expects that approximately 150 miles of road can be built on the material available.

The highway commission and county highway commissioners from interested counties met in Madison on Monday and Tuesday to decide whether or not to purchase the additional 1,000,000 barrels needed to complete the contemplated program at a price of $1.39 a barrel, the offer made by seven large cement concerns. Acceptance of this price would result in an additional saving of $80,000 over the original bid.

Two Reports Made in Row Over Cardinal

Two reports will be made to the student senate this afternoon in an effort to bring about a compromise adjustment of the differences between members of staff of the Daily Cardinal, university publication, and the Cardinal board of control. The first step in the settlement of the difficulties was taken yesterday afternoon at a meeting in South hall. The student senate investigating committee of seven, which has been probing the matter, will make its report this afternoon. A majority report will be made, it is understood. William M. Sale, editor of the Daily Cardinal, today denied the report that he had pointed out that the Cardinal board of Control was not a duly elected body, and therefore without authority to dismiss Don Bailey, business manager of the Cardinal.

Baby Is Awaiting Home; Father and Mother Disappear

Baby for adoption. Apply Salvation Army, Fairchild 955. Four months ago, on a stormy night, a young woman and a man, presumably her husband, sought refuge at the home of a Mendota resident. Before morning, a baby son had been born to the couple. The next night the father of the child disappeared. The mother and her babe remained at the home of the Mendota resident for some three months. A few weeks ago she, too, disappeared. There are four other little children in the home at Mendota, so there is no room for the small stranger. The case was brought to the attention of the Salvation Army which is now trying to find a home for the child. The babe is normal and healthy, physicians state.

500 Moose to Hold All Day Frolic, Sunday

Great Moose to Attend Gathering in Turner Hall Here

Five hundred Moose from Wisconsin will gather at Turner Hall tomorrow for an all day frolic given under the auspices of the Forward Legion, No. 191, of the Moosehead Legion of the World. Three hundred from Madison will attend. Fifty are expected from Janesville, 30 from Watertown, 30 from Beloit, 20 from Evansville and 10 from Stoughton.

Great North Moose Elect Dr. Frank L. Hodges of Monroe will arrive in Madison tonight. A special train will arrive tomorrow morning on the Illinois Central road bringing Moose and their families to Madison. None but Moose and their families will attend.

Hans Hilsenhoff, South Moose, of Madison; Otto Kuenast of Watertown; East Moose; Charles Newton of Janesville; West Moose; Anant Hilsenhoff of Madison, treasurer; Fred H. Rogers, Madison, Horder; William P. Tannhauser, Milwaukee, Past Great North Moose, will attend.

A business session will be held at 10:30 tomorrow morning, followed by installation of officers. Initiation will be held from 1:30 to 6 o'clock. A banquet will be served at 6 o'clock. Singing, dancing, and music will feature the meeting. G. F. Hambrecht will give a short talk.

Savings Bank Plan is Discussed at Meeting

The assured savings bank plan, which, it is believed, will be inaugurated in Madison in the near future, was discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the Madison Association of Life Underwriters at the city Y. M. C. A., this noon by A. C. Larson, of the Central Life company. The plan provides for making monthly deposits in a bank in connection with an insurance policy and in case of death the beneficiary receives both the money deposited and the policy money. The business meeting of the association was as usual a closed meeting.

Painless Remover Of Hair Solved By Madison Man

Hair may be removed painlessly from milady's face by the electrolysis first invented by Arthur M. Wengell, Doty apartments, whose discovery, medicurrent themolysis, has been adapted into the form of an electric cabinet. Mr. Wengell has lived in Madison all his life. His mother is Mrs. William Wengell, proprietor of the Marinello shop. After spending six years in Akron, Ohio, as the chief electric engineer of a large public utilities company, the Northern Ohio Traction and Light Co., Mr. Wengell returned to Madison about a year ago, and went into business with C. J. Willett in the Interstate Engineering Co. This is not Mr. Wengell's first electrical invention for beauty shops. The medicurrent control cabinet, in use now in many beauty parlors, was his origination. From Monday to Thursday of last week, Mr. Wengell was in Chicago demonstrating his latest find.

Politics Held Motive For Morgan Action

Atty. J. J. McManamy in Statement On Shoe Finding Prosecution

Charging that Atty. Gen. Morgan is actuated by considerations of politics in his "trust busting" program, J. J. McManamy today issued a statement regarding the attorney general's action against the Wisconsin shoe finding concerns of the state. Mr. McManamy is the attorney for two of those concerns. His statement follows:

"The Milwaukee papers of February 28, 1922, carried headlines in bold type to the effect that 'Morgan Splits Up Leather Combine, Orders Leather Trust Dissolution, States Victory, First in History Against Trusts,' followed by what purports to be an interview with Atty. Gen. Morgan, giving out the results of his 'victory.'"

"The published article was no doubt intended to lead the public to believe that a 'Leather Trust' existed in Wisconsin, and that the Attorney General was now engaged in breaking up the trusts, and that a judgment entered in the circuit court for Dane County, was his first victory."

"As the attorney for two of the defendants in Mr. Morgan's so-called 'Leather Trust Case,' I feel that it is but fair to the public to state the facts of the case, that the people may know just how much of a 'Leather Trust' existed, and let the people draw their conclusions as to just how far the judgment entered in the case of the State of Wisconsin v. William Yunkers et al, will effect leather goods dealers, and the public."

"If the news item published on February 28 is based upon an interview with Mr. Morgan, and upon that only, it is very evident that the intention was to deceive the public."

"For many years the manufacturers of rubber heels have been selling their goods to wholesale dealers of shoe findings in Wisconsin, and requiring the wholesalers to sell their product to the shoe-maker and cobbler at the price fixed by the manufacturer. Early in 1920, the Wisconsin Leather and Shoe Findings Association was organized, and in September, 1921, at the direction of the manufacturers of rubber heels, the association adopted a resolution to the effect that the members would maintain manufacturer's prices on shoe machinery. Subsequently one of the members of the association was fined for selling below the price below that fixed by the manufacturer. The fine of the member as well as the passing of the resolution to sell shoe machinery at the manufacturer's price, was done at the behest of the manufacturers whose place of business is outside of the State. The manufacturers of rubber heels insisted upon the wholesalers selling their product at prices fixed by them under penalty of the dealers being unable to buy their goods."

"At no time and under no circumstances was there even an attempt made by the members of the association to fix or maintain a price on any other article sold or handled by wholesalers of shoe findings. The association consists of some twenty-one firms, and with the exception of three, they were all dealers exclusively in shoe findings. The Madison Saddlery Company is a wholesaler of harness and harness goods, and also has a shoe finding department, but the principal business is that of manufacturing and wholesaling of harness and harness goods, and such other goods as is ordinarily found in retail harness store, and it is no doubt because of this fact, and the fact that the Madison Saddlery Company was a member of the Wisconsin Shoe & Leather Findings Association, that Mr. Morgan saw fit to characterize his suit as one to dissolve the 'Leather Trusts.'"

"The so-called anti-trust law, of which Mr. Morgan claims to be the author, has been the law of this state for the last thirty years, in substantially the same form that it is now, is the only substantial difference is that the legislature of 1921 in reenacting what was formerly known as Sec. 1744e and Sec. 1791j, Wis. Stats., added this provision, 'There is hereby appropriated to the Attorney General, a sum sufficient to carry out the provisions of this act; not to exceed $10,000.00 annually.'"

"The special investigators employed by Mr. Morgan called upon officers and members of the Wisconsin Shoe & Leather Findings Association, who freely furnished them with all the information, and as a matter of fact, the officers and members of the association assisted the agents of the Attorney General to procure evidence. After having obtained such evidence as they desired, the Attorney General started his suit and through his press agents secured big headlines in the newspapers in Wisconsin."

"After process had been served on the defendants, a meeting was held in Milwaukee which was attended by representatives of the defendants and their attorneys, and it was then decided that the Attorney General might enter such judgment in the case as he might desire, and the defendants would consent to the entry of such judgment, on condition that a stipulation be made a part of the record in the case, which stipulation should be in substance as follows:

"And it further appearing at said conference that it was the belief of the Attorney General that the said defendants acted in certain particulars under duress in conducting the business and affairs of the Wisconsin Leather & Shoe Findings Association, in the doing of certain acts set forth in the plaintiff's complaint, and that the said defendants individually, and collectively as an association, committed such acts without knowledge that they were thereby violating any laws of the State."

"And it further appearing that the acts committed by them as set forth in the plaintiff's complaint were in violation of the laws of the State of Wisconsin."

"This proposal was submitted to the Attorney General and accepted by him, and the stipulation was thereafter signed by the defendants."

"As the attorney for the Madison Saddlery Company and George Kindisch, I insisted that the stipulation contain the further statement as follows:

"It is claimed by the Madison Saddlery Company and George Kindisch that they, or neither of them, participated in any of the acts set forth in the plaintiff's complaint, beyond their becoming members of the association, and paying the usual dues as required by the by-laws of the association; and the plaintiff makes no claim that the Madison Saddlery Company and George Kindisch did participate in such acts, beyond the fact that they were members of the association."

"After the stipulation consenting that a judgment might be entered, the form of which had been submitted to the defendants, Mr. Morgan or his representatives took the stipulation to Judge Stevens on February 27, and had the judgment signed."

"There was no trial, no testimony taken, as all there was left for the court to do was to sign the judgment."

"It should be made clear to the public that the only articles of merchandise sold by any of these defendants on which there was any attempt to fix or maintain a price was rubber heels and shoe machinery."

"So far as fixing price on leather or leather goods there was never any attempt by any of the defendants to fix or maintain a price or to in any manner control the supply of any other article."

"If Mr. Morgan as Attorney General had the proper regard for the dignity of the office which he holds, he would consider it his positive duty in giving out an interview which he knew would be published broadcast in the press, to see to it that all of the facts were given."

"If the interview with Mr. Morgan was the only basis for the news item published on Feb. 28, it is very evident that it is deceiving, for the reason that only that part of the story which is favorable to himself is published. Had Mr. Morgan given a full statement of the facts of his so-called 'Leather Trust Case,' one could not well see how the newspapers in reporting his interview could characterize the case as the 'Leather Trust' or 'Leather Combine.'"

"Some weeks ago Mr. Morgan was winning through the press about Gov. Blaine and bitterly complaining that the governor was not co-operating with him in his anti-trust campaign. If his so-called 'Leather Trust Case' to which he gave so much publicity in the press of February 28, is a part of Mr. Morgan's 'Trust Busting Campaign,' of which he complains of the Governor for not giving him assistance, it is very evident that Gov. Blaine had analyzed Mr. Morgan's program as 'wholly for political purposes,' and as the same would be at the expense of public funds to the tune of $10,000.00 annually, the governor very wisely refused to lend a hand to any such practice."

"I am very much inclined to the opinion that Gov. Blaine had made a correct diagnosis of Mr. Morgan's anti-trust program, and acted accordingly."

"Fleischman Yeast Co. Loses Liquor Permit WASHINGTON—Prohibition Commissioner Haynes issued an order revoking the Industrial Alcohol permits of the Fleischmann Yeast Co. of New York."

"The Madison Saddlery Company and George Kindisch, I insisted that the stipulation contain the further statement as follows:

"It is claimed by the Madison Saddlery Company and George Kindisch that they, or neither of them, participated in any of the acts set forth in the plaintiff's complaint, beyond their becoming members of the association, and paying the usual dues as required by the by-laws of the association; and the plaintiff makes no claim that the Madison Saddlery Company and George Kindisch did participate in such acts, beyond the fact that they were members of the association."

"After the stipulation consenting that a judgment might be entered, the form of which had been submitted to the defendants, Mr. Morgan or his representatives took the stipulation to Judge Stevens on February 27, and had the judgment signed."

"There was no trial, no testimony taken, as all there was left for the court to do was to sign the judgment."

Nine Reasons for Going to Church

By THEODORE ROOSEVELT

(Furnished by Rev. J. Sherman Wallace of the First Baptist Church)

1. In this actual world, a churchless community, a community where men have abandoned and scoffed at or ignored their religious needs, is a community on the rapid down grade.

2. Church work and church attendance mean the cultivation of the habit of feeling some responsibility for others.

3. There are enough holidays for most of us. Therefore on Sundays go to church.

4. Yes, I know all the excuses. I know that one can worship the Creator in a grove of trees or by a running brook, or in a man's own home just as well as in a church. But I also know as a matter of cold fact the average man does not thus worship.

5. He may not hear a great sermon at church. He will hear a sermon by a good man, who, with his good wife, is engaged all the week in making hard lives a little easier.

6. He will listen to and take part in reading some beautiful passages from the Bible. And if he is not familiar with the Bible. And if he is not familiar with

7. He will take part in singing some good hymns.

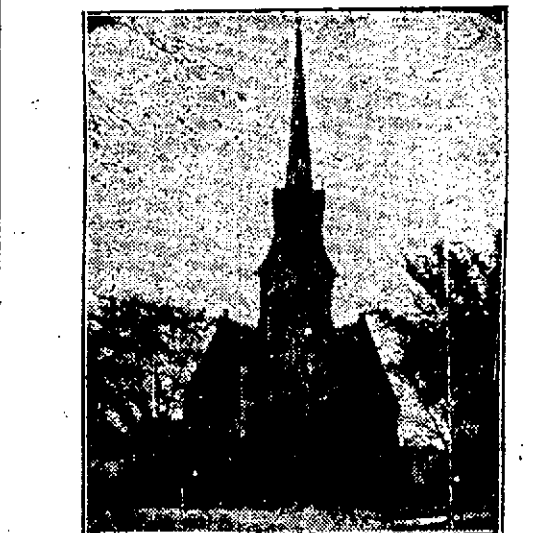

8. He will meet and nod or speak to good, quiet neighbors. He will come away feeling a little more charitable toward all the world, even toward those excessively foolish young men who regard churchgoing as a soft performance.

9. I advocate a man's joining in church work for the sake of showing his faith by his works.

"Fool's Paradise" Coming to Majestic Mixes Sentiment and Thrills

"Fool's Paradise" which opens a week's run at the Majestic tomorrow, is said to be the greatest screen entertainment yet made by Cecil B. De Mille, who produced the "The Affairs of Anatol," "Forbidden Fruit," "Male and Female," and other Paramount successes. "Fool's Paradise" has all the heart-warming sentiment of the greatest love tales of the century, all the glamour of a great spectacle, luxury, thrills, heart throbs, human injury, and intense dramatic suspense. It is marvelously played by a superlative cast. A special prologue has been prepared and will be shown at each performance.

AT THE GRAND.

The Dempsey-Carpentier fight pictures, which have been playing a week's engagement at the Grand, closing tonight, enable the public to see, in a clear manner, the tactics of the champion and his method of winning the fight. Throughout the four rounds Dempsey availed himself of every opportunity to drive home powerful blows to Carpentier's body. The battery of cameras trained on the ring did not miss a single blow.

"My Lady Friends," a funny farce comedy on the stage, co-starring Carter DeHavens, has been adapted to the screen and will on Sunday open for a four day engagement at the Grand. The stage version was only a broad grin compared to the hysterical knockout it is on the screen.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

There will be three vaudeville performances at the Orpheum today and tomorrow, where "Sawing a Woman in Half," the mystery act, is the feature attraction along with Frances Kennedy offering exclusive songs and patter; Richard Kean in scenes from famous plays; Barker and Jackson in Mirth and Melody; Bernard and Garry, southern syncopators; Clifford and Bothwell in Bits of Art, and Pathe News together with Aesop's Fables films. Headlining the new vaudeville bill Monday will be a high speed dancing oddity, featuring Mignonette Kokin and Maria Galetti and Co. Singing, talking, and acrobatic stunts will be the offering of the Four Camerons, a quartette of clever people. "Like Father, Like Son," featuring Tony, the Australian midge, Ross Wyse and Co. will present a surprise act, and Shelton Brooks, poplar song writer, offers a compound of fun and song. "Say It With Music," in which xylophones will play an important part will be presented by Frank and Milt Britton, and Pathe News, together with Topics of the Day films with another act to be announced later.

AT THE STRAND.

Claire Windsor in "What Do Men Want," Lois Weber's latest production will be shown at the Strand theater for the last times today. There will also be shown a "Snub" Pollard comedy and "The Little Match Girl" in Prizma colors. Mary Miles Minter in "Tillie," a picture adapted from the novel and stage play of the same name, will be the attraction at the Strand Sunday to Tuesday.

AT THE PARKWAY.

Scenes of Derby days at prominent race tracks are vividly recalled in the William Fox special, "Thunderclap," which opened at the Parkway theater yesterday. The piece of resistance of many thrills and pleasing situations being one of the most exciting horse races yet seen either on the track or on the silver screen. It is all so real, so genuine and so thoroughly thrilling that this feature alone is sufficient for the entertainment of those who witness "Thunderclap."

Alpha Pi of Phi Beta Pi fraternity will entertain tonight with an informal dancing party at the chapter house. Dr. and Mrs. F. Hodges will chaperon.

35 Rocky Mountain Students Form Club

About 35 students representing eight Rocky Mountain states met in Lathrop hall last Wednesday evening and formed the Rocky Mountain club.

The following officers were elected: President, Browning Warren '23, Boise, Ida.; vice-president, Mayo Story '24, Bozeman, Mont.; secretary, Eleanor Anderson '23, Boise, Ida.; treasurer, Marion Strain '25, Lamar, Colo.; sergeant-at-arms, George Gilland '24, Cheyenne, Wyo.; social chairman, Kathleen Harris '25, Salt Lake City; historian, Don Anderson, Montana. Members were enrolled from Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Utah, Colorado, and British Columbia. A wider representation is anticipated for the next meeting of the club.

The purpose of the club, as outlined Wednesday evening, is to stir Wisconsin spirit among western students, to promote friendships among the members, and to further the interests of Rocky Mountain people at the university. Beginning Wednesday, March 8, meetings will be held every two weeks in the S. G. A. room of Lathrop hall, at 7:15 p. m. All western students are invited.

The Pocahontas club will hold a roller skating party this evening at 7:30, starting at the Y. W. C. A., Lathrop hall.

GOOD FOR THAT "FLU" COUGH—For quick relief from the wearing coughs that "hang on" after the grippe or influenza, take Foley's Honey and Tar. Mrs. K. D. Drake, Childs, Md., writes: "After an attack of the flu that left me with a severe cough nothing seemed to relieve me till I tried Foley's Honey and Tar, which I can highly recommend." It is also good for croup, whooping cough and colds. It puts a soothing, healing coating over the inflamed surfaces, cuts the phlegm, eases hoarseness, clears the air passages. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

Girls' Glee Club Scores Success In First '22 Concert

The Girls' Glee club scored a great success in its first concert of the year, held last evening in Music hall. The program consisted of solo and chorus work, and much of the credit for the success of this concert is due to Miss Madelon C. Willman, the director.

Miss Angot Borge, soprano, was the soloist of the evening. Miss Borge sang two solos. The first was "Snow," by Lie, and was a descriptive piece, in a minor key, but which moved along with ease and finish. "The Spirit Flower" was Miss Borge's second solo. Miss Borge has a voice which takes you up and holds you there. Her solos were light and easy.

Great credit is due to Miss Frances Landon, the accompanist. Miss Landon, as well as playing the most difficult pieces with ease, sang a solo, "The Big Brown Bear." Miss Landon has a charming personality, and puts this into her work.

A cantata, "The Lady of Shalott," was given by the chorus and three soloists, the Misses Winifred Collier, Louise Madden, and Tomperence Johnson. Other solo parts were taken by Martha Chandler, Marie Gibbs, and Frances Landon. A number of light pieces, as well as heavier ones, were given in chorus and solo work.

The soloists, as well as the chorus, are to be given great credit for the fine program. The pitch was always exact, the quality and at-voices perfect. All the work, with the exception of the cantata, was given without music.

Second Pre-Convo Meeting Held Sunday

"Wanted a New God" will be the subject of a talk given by J. Sherman Wallace, of the Baptist church, Sunday evening at Music hall, at the second pre-conference meeting of the all-university Religious conference, which will be held March 10 to 12, under the auspices of the Campus Religious council.

Miss Mary James is visiting in Milwaukee.

Hold Jamboree Tryout For Stunts Tuesday

Tryouts for the stunts to be given by various fraternity and sorority groups at the Varsity Jamboree will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the auditorium of the Engineering building. Four or five groups will be chosen from those contesting, to put on their stunts the night of the Jamboree. Prizes will be awarded the two best groups.

The judges for both the tryouts and the final presentations will be town men who will be absolutely impartial in their decisions.

Pictures of the groups selected to give stunts will be exhibited in the windows of the Kamera Kraft and Photoart houses. They will also be printed in the 1923 Badger.

There will also be prizes for the best costumed groups in the grand march, which will open the Jamboree.

Miss Chrystal Vanderhorst is spending the week end in Chicago.

E. A. Trowbridge Addresses Saddle And Sirloin Club

Grad Lauds Badgers For Holding Little International

Prof. E. A. Trowbridge, Wisconsin '06, now professor of animal husbandry at the University of Missouri, addressed the meeting of the Saddle and Sirloin club Friday evening, March 3, in the auditorium of Agricultural hall.

The talk was preceded by a brief business meeting at which final plans and instructions for the Little International show this afternoon and evening were given out. Professor Trowbridge began his address by describing the activities carried on by the agriculture students at the University of Missouri, telling of the Farmers' fair held in April each year.

"This fair," he said, "at first was simply a take-off on county fairs. Later, however, it has taken on a more serious aspect and now resembles what agriculture colleges throughout the country carry on and what we are having in the Little International show."

The importance to undergraduates of putting on such a performance as the Little International can not be over-rated. The undertaking tends towards growing interest in agriculture affairs and affords an admirable experience to the men partaking in it.

"I want to emphasize another fact: which is, that agriculture as a calling has a dignity of its own. The task, no matter what its nature may be, is as big as the man undertaking it. Agriculture can be made as dignified a profession as any other."

The talk was followed by a business meeting of the Agricultural Literary society.

Arthur Douglas, Sparta, is a guest of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity this week end.

Red Bird To Be Staged By Curtain Club

Play by Prof. W. E. Leonard Deals With Indian Life

"Red Bird," a drama of Wisconsin history, by Prof. William Ellery Leonard, of the University of Wisconsin, will be presented at the University theatre, April 27. A tribe of Chippewa Indians, living near Lake Superior, about 1812, forms the background of the story and furnishes the historical setting. The curtain club, a student organization, is presenting the play. The cast: Chief of the Chippewas, Robert Schenck; Rabbit Mouth, Harry Cloud and Eagle Beak, Chippewa Indians; J. R. Stier, Harold Stier, and B. Q. Morgan; Major West, U. S. A., Alvin Rees; Indian Commissioner McKenney, Robert West; a fur trader, Norman Bassett; Francois Gagnier, a fur trader, Alan L. Strout; Gagnier's wife, Beatrice Strout; Sgt. Jones, U. S. A., James D. Leake. Prof. Leonard has written several other plays. "Another Indian Story," "The Morning," was staged here several years ago.

200 Teachers of Classics to Meet Here April 13-15

The Classical Association of the Middle West and South will hold its twentieth annual meeting at Madison, April 13 to 15. About 200 members will be present. This is the first time that Madison has entertained the association, and as the convention will be held during spring vacation, it is possible the guests may occupy the university halls and fraternity houses. Prof. A. G. Laird, chairman of the local committee on arrangements, has planned for a special demonstration by Prof. Frances Ellis Rubin and some of her advanced students, in addition to addresses by several members of the classics department. The association was formed in 1905, and has a membership of 2,000 classics teachers from colleges and secondary schools throughout the Middle West and South. Prof. M. S. Slaughter served as president of the association during 1906-07.

Better Days Ahead For the Sheepman

"The prices of wool and mutton are gradually rising and better times are ahead for the Wisconsin sheepmen," says Frank Kleinholz, veteran shepherd at the College of Agriculture. He says that the depression is over for the sheepmen, because the surplus supply bought by the government has been completely exhausted, a fact which will naturally tend to raise the price. Again he states that the flocks which are being raised in the West are smaller due to the hard times of the past year. Thus, both wool and mutton are gradually rising. Recent reports from the wool market in Chicago quote wool at from 20 to 30 cents a pound, and it was one time as low as 15 cents a pound. It is true that one extreme follows another, we have had our low period and a higher one must follow. It may not go extremely high, but it is certainly going up.

Haresfoot Changes Name of Production

"Kitty Corner" has been selected as the name of the twenty-fourth annual Haresfoot production, replacing "Jewelry Junction." The change was made by the production committee last night working with Harry Spingold, of Chicago, who is in the city yesterday to make selections for the cast and scenes of the show.

WOMAN COULD NOT WORK

Made Strong and Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Paul, Minn.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a tired, worn-out feeling and painful periods. I used to get up with a pain in my head and pains in my lower parts and back. Often I was not able to do my work. I read in your little book about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken it. I feel so well and strong and can do every bit of my work and not a pain in my back now. I recommend your medicine and you can use this letter as a testimonial." — Mrs. PHIL. MASER, 501 Winslow St., St. Paul, Minn.

Just another case where a woman found relief by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Many times these tired, worn-out feelings and pains about the body are from troubles many women have. The Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for just this condition. The good results are noted by the disagreeable symptoms passing away — one after another.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a Woman's Medicine for Women's Ailments. Always reliable.

Air Infiltration Into Buildings to Be Studied Here

The University of Wisconsin has been selected as one of several American universities to co-operate in the study of the problems of air infiltration into buildings. The work is being done by B. S. Spieth, instructor in the department of steam and gas engineering, in co-operation with the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers, which has been carrying on research in its Pittsburgh laboratories. Various types of buildings and the amount of air infiltration in each will be studied. Another experimentation, that of a plan of heating buildings with hot water which has been heated by steam injected directly into the water, is being carried on by G. C. Wilson, of the same department, in co-operation with the Wisconsin state power plant engineering department.

Madison High Five Nears Chance To Enter Whitewater Basketball Tournament

DeForest Five Defeated 47-6 in Local Game

Yellow and Black Team is Easy Victor; Walsh is Star

BY RAY.
Taking baskets at will and outscoring completely its humble opponent, DeForest high school, the Yellow and Black quintet of Madison last night stepped one place higher in the district tournament at Whitewater, by winning, 46 to 7. Although the visitors were weak and nervous, the locals earned everything they got. There were no field goals made by either team. Bud Walsh played one of the best games witnessed by students or spectators of the city. Throughout the tilt, Walsh repeated his whirlwind dribbling. His perfect teamwork could not be equaled in a long while. Time again the snappy little forward charged through the opposing team, secured a perfect goal. Sid Taylor, accompanied by the captain, was the main cogs in the team. Both played the short game so close together, that the best men did not know the way to look for the ball. Clever Orwell played the best game he has ever played. The guard, although short and small, slipped almost every attempt to shoot at the basket, and when they did make a try, he was up in the air and bringing it down on his own mates. Wheeler and Bailey also played a great game. Wheeler not watching himself as he was ought to. At the end of the half he was marked up with 10 personal fouls.
The game was Madison's, 5 seconds after the game started, Bud knocking up the tipoff and speeding down the floor for the first points. Coach Endres saw the regulars needed rest so in the fourth quarter he sent in a whole new team which held the De Forest team scoreless. The lineup:
Madison (46) De Forest (7)
Tallard R. F. Williamson
Walsh L. F. Pennington
Wheeler C. E. Hurlan
Bailey E. G. Hoffman
Orwell L. G. Gray
Field goals—Walsh, 10; Tallard 4; Wheeler 4; Gray 1; Hurlan 2; free throws—Wheeler, 2 missed; Hurlan, 1 out of 6. Referee—Guy A. Lawman.

Toledoans Still Hold Lead in Alley Meet

TOLEDO, O.—Out of town bowlers failed today to dislodge Toledoans from the leadership in the doubles and singles events of the American Bowling congress tournament.
E. Thomas and C. Hoots of Decatur, Ill., rolled into fourth position in the two men event with 1221. It was the only visiting pair to get into the list of the first ten in that division.
A new leader appeared in the singles today in the person of J. St. Julien of Toledo, who rolled 619. St. Julien, N. Y. rolled 301 for his three games, giving him third place in the standings.
A. Bray of Decatur rolled 586 for his place and V. Conklin, also of Decatur, won tenth place with 566.

Meyers Wins Hardest Match; Beats Engel

CHICAGO—After one of the hardest matches of his championship career, Johnny Meyers, claimant of the middleweight title, defeated Hene Engel of Dubuque, Ia., in the main bout of the wrestling tournament conducted by Jim Mullen at the Grand Boulevard auditorium, Tuesday. Meyers won the match by 2-0 of wrestling in the tenth round, with a body scissors and a back lock.
It was not until the ninth session that Meyers really showed his supremacy. In the tenth session Meyers kept after his opponent in relentless fashion. He clamped several good holds on Engel's head and body, but finally wrapped his arms around Hene's body, adjusted his weight and forced the visitor's shoulders to the canvass and the winlock.

Grapplers Are Set For Chicago Meet

George Hitchcock has his team all primed for the meet with the Chicago squad, which will be held at the university gymnasium this evening.
The Badger team has rounded into shape and should stand a good chance in most of the events. Chicago sends only four competitors with the six Wisconsin wrestlers. Coach Hitchcock's team undoubtedly came through the third consecutive win.
Following m.c.s. compose the team for tonight: Poles, 135; Peterson, 145; Heger, 155; Heger, 175; and Kessner. The latter is a new name in the wrestling team, but is a good athlete who possesses a good size and speed which enable him to win a decision over his man.

Pair Of Hands That Beat Hoppe; Champ Plays Here

Billiard experts have made much comment since Jake Schaefer won the balk-line title about his wonderful hands and their capabilities in stroke and bridge. The claim is made that he has fingers of such strength and dexterity and flexibility that he can bridge anywhere on the table and make his stroke with absolute precision and certainty. Jake is playing here next week with Roger Conti the twenty year old champion of Europe, as an opponent. At Abaly's Capitol Billiard Academy, Tuesday afternoon at 3 and evening at 7:45. The billiard fans of this city will have a good chance to study the wonderful methods of both men. It's a rare treat.

Preps Beaten By Catholics in Close Tilt

Wisconsin High Defeated by Prairie du Chien 22 to 25

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN—Wisconsin high school, preps of the University of Wisconsin, were humbled by Prairie du Chien high school here last night, 22 to 25, when the local school team nosed out the Madison five in the final minute of play. It was a thrilling, exciting game, going at break-neck speed from the beginning to the end.
No less than half a dozen times during the tilt, the score was tied, by first one team and then the other. As the time of the last period drew to a close and the score standing at 18 to 18, it was anybody's game. The Prairie forwards worked to a blood sweat and tossed in a basket and a free throw; but before the whistle could blow, Madison preps shot in three points and with the whistle expected to blow any moment, the score was again tied, at 22 to 22.
Nobody knew how the home team did it, but quicker than a flash, the home team had garnered three more points, and Madison could not come back.
Wisconsin High, Prairie du Chien: Schaefer, R. F.; Schwaiger, Kennison, L. F.; Foley, Holsworth, C. G.; Budworth, Otis, R. G.; Wachter, Heil, L. G.; Keiser.

Minnesotans Are Confident as Eve Of Tilt Approaches

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 3.—With their last game of the 1922 season scheduled for Saturday night, the Gophers with five wins to six defeats will do their best to make their last appearance this year a successful one against the invading Badger quint.
The Maroon and Gold has dropped six consecutive games, and the hope would give the Madison men an easy win. But the Gophers already have beaten the Cardinal men on the home floor and with a week's training and rest after an unusually hard road trip, can be expected to take the measure of the proteges of Coach Meanwell.
A win will give the Cookmen an even 500 percent rating and perhaps fourth place while a loss would consign them to about fifth or sixth place. It will be a battle—not for the Big Ten title—but to uphold a reputation established early in the season as far as the Minnesotans are concerned.
The Gophers are in poor shape after a hard four game trip occupying a full week. Four Conference games in seven days is a tough assignment and the Maroon and Gold men are worse for the wear.
Captain Kearney is sure to lead his men for the last time at his usual post of running guard, while Rudy Huikmans will play the other guard. Hanson probably will appear at the pivot while Severinson and Swanson seem to have the call for forwards.

Barnes Gains Big Lead in Open Golf

NEW ORLEANS, La.—Gaining a surprising margin of 11 up on 36 holes against American Open champion Jim Barnes of Pelham, La., with whom he was paired, Gene Sarazen of Pittsburg led the field in the southern open golf championship at the country club with a model score of 146.
Orville Walker of Englewood, N. J., turned the halfway mark in the two days' tourney, in second place with a medal total of 149, and Leo Diegel of the home club, who was paired with Jack Hutchinson of Chicago, ended the day of competition through mud and water in third position with 151.

Dempsey Will Meet H. Wills; Hail Promotor!

Champion Ready to Take On Negro; Edwards in Favor

NEW YORK—Recognizing the fact that Harry Wills is the logical man to turn to, Jack Dempsey and Jack Kearns have settled that they will take on the giant Negro for a battle for the heavyweight championship of the world just as soon as the promoter comes along and selects the time and place, with a comfortable guarantee included.
"We don't care what color or what nationality a challenger is. We're prepared to fight any man who disputes Dempsey's claim to the championship of the world," Kearns said today. "We haven't been stalling in the matter."
"For the time being, unless some action is taken for an early match between the champion and Wills, it is likely the champion and myself will make a short trip to Europe."
"We have had several offers from Europe, one of which included a return match with Carpenter. However, we have not settled definitely on our plans and it may be that even the proposed trip will be cancelled if conditions over here warrant us staking here a match with the big colored fighter."
Kearns intimated that a Dempsey-Wills bout might have to go over to next September.
The New Jersey state boxing commission does not look with favor on a match between Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight boxing champion, and Harry Wills. While no action was taken to prohibit definitely such a match in this state, the commission, through its chairman, Robert H. Doherty, met today and issued a statement expressing the belief that "the public generally is opposed to this match."
Gov. Edwards, in a statement last night, declared he would permit such a match in New Jersey if there was a public demand for it.

Frosh Cinder Men Meet Iowa Squad Via Radio Route

The first meet of its kind ever held, will be staged this afternoon in the annex when the Badger freshmen contend in track and field events with the Iowa yearlings via the wireless route.
A test of the apparatus between the two schools was made yesterday afternoon with highly satisfactory results, and arrangements have been made with M. P. Hanson, the operator of the University station in Sterling hall, whereby the results of each event as it is run off will be telephoned from the gymnasium, and returns from the Hawkeye station will be announced at intervals.
Although little is known of the strength of the Iowa team, Coach Bresnahan is sure to have developed a strong squad to oppose the Badger yearlings. Coach Burke's freshmen are in excellent shape for the meet, and after their near victory in the meet with Illinois, they are out to win from the Iowans. With the advantages of the track equalized, Burke feels that his squad will be able to clean up.
Among the contestants in today's meet are many freshmen whose performance compares favorably with marks of former varsity stars. Valley in the half mile and the mile is sure to be a star of the meet. Supporting him in these two events will be Bert Hilberts, Bergstresser, Phil Niederman, and Robinson, all good middle distance men. The marks made in these two events should be very close to Varsity time.

Hoppe to Train to Regain 182 Title

ST. LOUIS—Willie Hoppe, who will attempt to regain the world's 182 balking championship from Jake Schaefer, Jr., of Chicago, in a 1500-point match at Chicago, March 27, 28 and 29, plans to train in St. Louis for at least ten days prior to the contest. This announcement was made by Charles C. Peterson, local billiardist, who accompanies Hoppe on exhibition tours. Peterson said he would aid in conditioning Hoppe for the championship match and that a physical trainer also would be employed in putting the former champion into shape. Hoppe held the title for 16 years.

Badger Play Cook's Gopher Quint Tonight

Meets Minnesota Second Time; Wolverines at Iowa State

GAMES TONIGHT
Wisconsin at Minnesota.
Iowa at Michigan.
Northwestern at Ohio State.

PROBABLE LINEUP

Wisconsin	F. Severinson
Casser	F. Doyle
Taylor	C. Hansen
Gibson	C. Hullcrantz
Williams	G. Kearney
Tebell

Coach Walter E. Meanwell and nine of his basketweavers left for Minneapolis last evening, where they meet the Gophers tonight in the second engagement between the two teams this season.
The Badgers have a hard job on their hands if they are to avenge the two point defeat which Doctor Cook's men administered to them six weeks ago, and thereby remain in the running for second place in the conference.
The Wisconsin team is in good shape for the game, but they have not settled down to a typical Meanwell style of second semester game this year, and there is no telling what kind of a battle they will put up against the Gophers. On a few occasions the team has worked nicely together and has played in regular championship style, but again the men have not been able to locate their shooting eyes nor their smooth passwork.
It is a certainty that both the defense and the offense will be forced to the limit in tonight's encounter. It will be necessary to extend the former out from the basket, as Captain Kearney and Hullcrantz have dangerous eyes for both long and short shots. The latter made a few long shots in the second half of the game here which gave the Northerners a lead that the locals were never able to overcome.
Coach Meanwell will probably use Gage and Irish for a considerable portion of the time. Their playing in the past few games has placed them about on a par with the regulars, and the fact that either man can be used in practically any position makes them especially valuable.
Comparative scores in recent games would make the Badgers slight favorites in tonight's game, but the dope has been upset so many times this season that the outcome cannot be safely predicted. Wisconsin has a team which has been taught basketball from every possible angle, and Minnesota has five fighting basketball players who are not beaten until the final gun sounds.

Gymnasts Stack Up Against Maroons In Gym Tonight

The Badger gym team, crippled by the loss of five men through ineligibility, will meet the University of Chicago gymnasts at 7:30 tonight in conjunction with the wrestling meet.
The Chicago team is reputed to be very good, as they have most of the men back this year who took the first place for them in the conference gymnastic meet last season. This meet will give the Maroons a good chance to become familiar with the apparatus in the gymnasium here, and in this respect they will have somewhat of an advantage over the other Big Ten teams in the 1922 conference meet which will be held in Madison.
The entries for the various events are as follows:
Horizontal bar—Wisconsin, Bumer, Leitz, Pfeiffer, and Rand. Chicago, Morris, Kessler, Schenidenbach, and Collins.
Side rope—Wisconsin, Kleiman, Hanson, Stevens, and Bumer. Chicago, Schneidebach, Elliott, and Hargraves.
Flying rings—Wisconsin, Porth, Leitz, and Bumer. Chicago, Kessler, Collins, and Schneidebach.
Parallel bars—Wisconsin, Porth, Bumer, Leitz, and Koch. Chicago, Kessler, Collins, Ricketts, and Schneidebach.
Tumbling—Wisconsin, Kitchan, Stevens, Bumer, and Koch. Chicago, Hargraves, Ricketts, Elliott, and Kessler.
Indian clubs—Wisconsin, Porth, Chicago, Kessler.
Folk—Wisconsin, Reinhold, Chicago, Wood, and LaMont.
Broad swords—Wisconsin, Boerke. Chicago, LaMont.
In addition to the loss of five men through ineligibility, the Wisconsin team is further hampered by the inability of Hanson to compete, due to a sprained wrist.

Maroons Win Last Minute Battle, 26-25

URBANA, Ill.—With seven seconds of an overtime battle remaining, and Illinois in the lead by a solitary tally, Dickson, the Maroon forward, cleverly handled a neat pass under the net and securely caged the goal that won for Chicago, 26 to 25, in a big Ten Basketball game which both teams had set their hearts on winning.
The rousing finish was only one of numerous thrills. Capt. Chuck Carney of Illinois, demonstrated his iron nerve just before the second period ended. The score was, Chicago, 24; Illinois 23, and it was up to Carney to toss a free throw, which he did. Dickson's basket was the only field goal in the five minutes overtime, with both sides attempting to smother every possible shot.
The Maroons started off in the lead and ended in the first half ahead, 12 to 5. The Illinois slowly climbed up until the exciting finale. Romney made some sensational long shots.

Varsity Tank Men Troupon Gopher Team

Coach Joe Steinauer's Badger swimming squad took a step forward in its pennantward race last night by defeating Minnesota 32 to 36 in a meet, which was characterized by the breaking of three conference records.
Wisconsin scored 31 points in the first three events, establishing a lead that the northerners were never able to overcome. The Gophers climbed rapidly in the next three events, but Steinauer's men clinched the victory when they captured second and third places in the 150 yard back stroke event.
Bennett Getters were well distributed on the Badger team; Bennett being the highest man with two firsts or 10 points to his credit. Captain Collins, Koch, Lamboley and Czerwonky also figured prominently in the scoring.
Farley, of Minnesota, lived up to his record of being the best man in the Big Ten Conference at the present time by defeating Czerwonky in the breast stroke. Czerwonky swam this event in 2:40-2.5, lowering the conference record by 4-3-5 seconds. He displayed wonderful form in the water, but was only able to count 5 points, as he was only entered in the single event.
Relay is Close
The first event of the evening, the 160 yard relay, was one of the most interesting races on the program. The men swam neck to neck until the final pair, Bennett and Holmes, were on the last lap, when the Badger far outdistanced his opponent and broke a conference record by 2-5 of a second. Bennett broke another record when he negotiated the 220 yard free style event in 2:29 4-5, cutting off 1-8-5 seconds from the time of the famous Chicago star, Binnie.
Minnesota had little difficulty in winning the first two places in the distance plunges. Atwood and Jordan were much larger than the Wisconsin plungers, and the former pair easily plunged the length of the tank within the required time.
Have Championship Hopes
Since the Gophers have already registered victories over Northwestern and Iowa, and as Wisconsin has triumphed over Illinois and Chicago, Steinauer's men appear to be well lined up for the conference championship. The Badgers should be in great trim by the time of the Conference meet, which will be held at Evanston, Ill., March 16. They have been able to overcome all opposition thus far without availing themselves of every possible scoring opportunity, giving them a slight edge over most of the teams in the conference.
The summaries are as follows:
100 yard relay—Won by Wisconsin. Time 1 minute, 21 seconds.
Fancy diving—Collins, W. first; Koch, W. second; Brunner, M. third. 40 yard dash—Bennett, W. first; Lamboley, W. second; Gow, M. third. Time 20 1-5 seconds.
200 yard breast stroke—Farley, M. first; Czerwonky, W. second; Dinmore, M. third. Time 2 minutes 40 2-5 seconds.
220 yard free style—Bennett, W. first; Lamboley, W. second; GHBreath, W. third. Time 2 minutes 29 4-5 seconds.
Plunge for distance—Atwood, M. first; Jordan, M. second; Euseben, W. third. Distance, 60 feet in 31-2-5 seconds.
150 yard back stroke—Day, M. first; Copeland, W. second; Czerwonky, W. third. Time 2 minutes 2 3-5 seconds.
100 yard free style—Gow, M. second; Lanpher, M. second; Lamboley, W. third. Time 59 2-5 seconds.
Officials—Starter and judge: Harry Hazelhurst, C. A. A. Judges: R. B. Duncan, A. Knoll, E. Borgelt. Umpers: G. E. Linden, M. Burke, Frank J. Nickerson. Clerk—R. W. Brown.
The water basketball game was forfeited to Wisconsin by the Gophers.

Coach Joe Steinauer's Badger swimming squad took a step forward in its pennantward race last night by defeating Minnesota 32 to 36 in a meet, which was characterized by the breaking of three conference records.
Wisconsin scored 31 points in the first three events, establishing a lead that the northerners were never able to overcome. The Gophers climbed rapidly in the next three events, but Steinauer's men clinched the victory when they captured second and third places in the 150 yard back stroke event.
Bennett Getters were well distributed on the Badger team; Bennett being the highest man with two firsts or 10 points to his credit. Captain Collins, Koch, Lamboley and Czerwonky also figured prominently in the scoring.
Farley, of Minnesota, lived up to his record of being the best man in the Big Ten Conference at the present time by defeating Czerwonky in the breast stroke. Czerwonky swam this event in 2:40-2.5, lowering the conference record by 4-3-5 seconds. He displayed wonderful form in the water, but was only able to count 5 points, as he was only entered in the single event.
Relay is Close
The first event of the evening, the 160 yard relay, was one of the most interesting races on the program. The men swam neck to neck until the final pair, Bennett and Holmes, were on the last lap, when the Badger far outdistanced his opponent and broke a conference record by 2-5 of a second. Bennett broke another record when he negotiated the 220 yard free style event in 2:29 4-5, cutting off 1-8-5 seconds from the time of the famous Chicago star, Binnie.
Minnesota had little difficulty in winning the first two places in the distance plunges. Atwood and Jordan were much larger than the Wisconsin plungers, and the former pair easily plunged the length of the tank within the required time.
Have Championship Hopes
Since the Gophers have already registered victories over Northwestern and Iowa, and as Wisconsin has triumphed over Illinois and Chicago, Steinauer's men appear to be well lined up for the conference championship. The Badgers should be in great trim by the time of the Conference meet, which will be held at Evanston, Ill., March 16. They have been able to overcome all opposition thus far without availing themselves of every possible scoring opportunity, giving them a slight edge over most of the teams in the conference.
The summaries are as follows:
100 yard relay—Won by Wisconsin. Time 1 minute, 21 seconds.
Fancy diving—Collins, W. first; Koch, W. second; Brunner, M. third. 40 yard dash—Bennett, W. first; Lamboley, W. second; Gow, M. third. Time 20 1-5 seconds.
200 yard breast stroke—Farley, M. first; Czerwonky, W. second; Dinmore, M. third. Time 2 minutes 40 2-5 seconds.
220 yard free style—Bennett, W. first; Lamboley, W. second; GHBreath, W. third. Time 2 minutes 29 4-5 seconds.
Plunge for distance—Atwood, M. first; Jordan, M. second; Euseben, W. third. Distance, 60 feet in 31-2-5 seconds.
150 yard back stroke—Day, M. first; Copeland, W. second; Czerwonky, W. third. Time 2 minutes 2 3-5 seconds.
100 yard free style—Gow, M. second; Lanpher, M. second; Lamboley, W. third. Time 59 2-5 seconds.
Officials—Starter and judge: Harry Hazelhurst, C. A. A. Judges: R. B. Duncan, A. Knoll, E. Borgelt. Umpers: G. E. Linden, M. Burke, Frank J. Nickerson. Clerk—R. W. Brown.

Maroons Win Last Minute Battle, 26-25

URBANA, Ill.—With seven seconds of an overtime battle remaining, and Illinois in the lead by a solitary tally, Dickson, the Maroon forward, cleverly handled a neat pass under the net and securely caged the goal that won for Chicago, 26 to 25, in a big Ten Basketball game which both teams had set their hearts on winning.
The rousing finish was only one of numerous thrills. Capt. Chuck Carney of Illinois, demonstrated his iron nerve just before the second period ended. The score was, Chicago, 24; Illinois 23, and it was up to Carney to toss a free throw, which he did. Dickson's basket was the only field goal in the five minutes overtime, with both sides attempting to smother every possible shot.
The Maroons started off in the lead and ended in the first half ahead, 12 to 5. The Illinois slowly climbed up until the exciting finale. Romney made some sensational long shots.

News of the Markets

Report for March 4

Wheat Drops During Early Trade Today

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO—Wheat slumped in the early trading on the Chicago Board of Trade today. The opening price was 1/2 cent lower in sympathy with Liverpool prices, May being 1.45 1/2, July 1.22 1/2 and September 1.15. Strong commission houses sold readily and prices were soon 2 cents under the opening. Increased pressure was noted on bulges and sentiment was generally bearish.

The market fluctuated throughout the rest of the session but some buying developed on reports that hedges were being removed on export sales and that Japan had taken 400,000 bushel overnight. Final prices were 1.42 1/2 for May, 1.20 1/2 for July and 1.12 1/2 for September.

CORN—A break in corn was blamed for the weakness in wheat. Many stop loss orders were caught and helped accentuate the movement. At the end of the first hour May was 1.14 1/2 and July 1.20. Liquidation as to loss orders found corn almost without support and declines were rapid. First prices were 66 1/2 for May, 65 1/2 for July and 64 1/2 for September. At the inside figures there was a decline of 3/4 cent from yesterday's finish. A rally of about a cent followed but the market continued nervous.

No sustained rallies developed. It was reported that the heavy selling came from outside interests and was regarded as long grain. The close was 63 1/2 for May, 62 1/2 for July and 61 1/2 for September.

OATS—Oats were affected by the same persistent long selling as corn. The first prices were unchanged to 1/4 cent lower, May 41 1/2 for May and July 40 1/2 for July. Declines of 1/4 to 1/2 cent were registered before support came.

PROVISIONS—In provisions lard established a new high for the season at the start but the market then turned weak.

Stock Market Issues Are Strong Today

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK—Selected issues, particularly those under pool control, were firm to strong at the opening of today's stock market but clearing the customary week-end stabilizing movement was in evidence. Gains of 1 to 1 1/2 points were made by National Lead, International Nickel Pfd. and Laclede Gas, Coppers were inclined to add to yesterday's advances. Reactionary features included Studebaker and United Fruit which declined one point and several of the junior rails and steels. The market became more unsettled within the first hour on heavy selling of Studebaker.

Several of the local utilities as well as Laclede Gas and Jewel Tea Pfd. were strong. The close was heavy.

May Collect Garbage from Local Hotels

Steps in Solution of Problem May Be Taken This Week

Two important steps in the solution of the garbage problem may be taken by the city within the coming week. The abandoning of the incinerator and the turning over of the contract for garbage disposal to Dr. J. P. West, will necessitate further action by the city, and it is expected that this action will result in:

1.—The collection of all garbage, including that from hotels, restaurants and cafeterias, by the street department.

2.—The amendment of the city ordinance to prohibit wrapping garbage in paper containers.

Peter Walsh, street superintendent, today said that at present the department is collecting about 13 tons of garbage a day. In the summer, this amount is increased to about 25 or more tons. Providing the increased amount of garbage, which the city must collect under the new scheme, is 15 tons daily, as is estimated, the peak load in the summer time will reach practically 40 tons.

The city will haul the garbage to the West farm, north of Dayton st., this year provided the paving program laid out by the city is carried through. Pavement is to be laid on these streets from State to Hamilton and mains will be laid when this is done.

25 percent More Water is Registered Now Than in 1921

Twenty-five per cent more water passed through city meters in 1921 than passed through them three years ago. This was the statement of Mr. L. A. Smith, superintendent of the water department, at the meeting of the board of water commissioners in the city hall last night.

In 1919, 52 per cent of the total water pumped by the city water works passed through meters, 65 per cent in 1920, and 77 per cent in 1921, he said. Of the entire amount of water pumped by the water works in 1921, 91 per cent was absolutely accounted for, he continued. Seventy-seven per cent passed through the city meters, 14 per cent was drawn from hydrants by contractors, and 9 per cent was leakage, Smith asserted.

The causes of the decrease in waste are three-fold, he maintained. A survey of waste, made last year, has resulted in a large cut in leakage. Twice as many meters were repaired and tested in 1921 as were in previous years, and consequently there are more meters registering accurately at the present time than ever before. Closer check has also been made on the water drawn from the hydrants by contractors, and for use in flushers and sprinklers.

peau county, 49 years ago. He was educated in the public schools there and graduated from the university law school in 1894. Mr. Ekern was immediately, in the fall of 1894, elected district attorney of Trempealeau county and he served two terms. In 1902 he was elected to the legislature and served continuously until elected speaker in 1907. He was on the committee of the legislature appointed to investigate life insurance companies in 1906.

He was made deputy insurance commissioner in 1909. He was then elected insurance commissioner in 1910, the office being a state elective office at that time. He defeated M. J. Cleary. Later the office was made appointive. Mr. Ekern was insurance commissioner from 1910 to 1915.

Davenport or Picadilly?

WE have always been mystified by the continued and persistent expression of admiration for all things British to be found in the editorial columns of our good neighbor, The State Journal. We had always supposed that the editorial inspiration of our good neighbor came from sources no more remote than Davenport, Ia., but of late our esteemed colleague seems fully as Anglophile as the Milwaukee Journal and the New York Times.

It is beyond our wisdom to figure out the reason for the pro-English tendencies in our good friends on Carroll street. Whether or not it is part and parcel of a great British newspaper propaganda that has enveloped this country only our good neighbors can know.

There is, however, a pro-English propaganda being carried on among a large number of newspapers in this country that ought to be given serious consideration by the American people. England has always been a master at propaganda. German propaganda was bungling and ineffective as compared to the subtle and insidious methods employed by John Bull.

We have only to recall the propaganda on the canal tolls issue to show the mastery of the British at that line of work. The Versailles treaty, the four power treaty now before the senate and the propaganda for the cancellation of the foreign debt have also been fertile fields for British manipulation of sentiment.

The State Journal carried a characteristic editorial yesterday. It was an editorial prolific in its praise of Great Britain and seemingly designed to place John Bull in a more favorable light than some historical embarrassments might give him.

Among other things The State Journal says:

As we Americans feel ourselves moved to condemn England, as we listen to the voices of politicians appealing to racial prejudice, may we not ask ourselves what we have done to liberalize government in our own dependencies since the war? What policy have we adopted to compare with the new Irish and Egyptian freedom? Domestically, what have we done since the war in the way of unemployment legislation, industrial democracy, old age pensions, and the like? European nations have done these things, England many of them.

That is strange talk coming from The State Journal. The State Journal has always told us that unemployment legislation, industrial democracy, old age pensions and the like are "destructive radical" ideas emanating from Russia. Whenever these questions have come up in the Wisconsin legislature The State Journal has always leveled its shafts against these ideas as being the work of radical Non-partisan leaguers. Has The State Journal become so twisted in its admiration for John Bull that the things which it condemns in this country are the things that it brings out and exhibits in making a case for the British?

Again The State Journal says:

We Americans, remembering our traditions and always conscious of the Revolution, possessed of instinctive sympathy for the "under dog," are inclined to jump figuratively at England's throat whenever a British dominion is visited by a riot in any sense approaching one in the United States. We take pains to give England credit for the extension of Caucasian civilization, which really means much to us. For instance, if in a war of races a new invasion should sweep from the east, we would like well to know that India and Egypt were not lined up against us with the Celestials and their kin and neighbors. Yet if they are not, it will be because of British colonial policy.

That is also some British taffy that sounds well until put to the test of historical facts. Can The State Journal be ignorant of the fact that Great Britain for years has had a secret treaty with Japan? How does The State Journal get around the fact that while this treaty was in effect Great Britain would have been obliged to have gone to the aid of Japan in any differences with the United States?

History certainly teaches us that England has never recognized race, religion or color in pushing her imperialistic ventures to the outposts of the world. England has been a cool, calculating country that has never been actuated by any sentiment or floundered in her fight for world domination.

England for years was the great creditor nation of the world. London for centuries was the financial capital of the universe. Today, the United States is the creditor nation of the world. History eloquently demonstrates that England has never permitted any other nation to remain the creditor nation of the world. Can any person get an unbiased historical perspective and say that England will accept the present situation and permit the United States to be the financial leader of the world? Hardly.

England is today at the bottom of a shrewd propaganda for the cancellation of the foreign debt. She has evidently enlisted powerful newspaper support in this country for that purpose. If England can't get what she wants through sly propaganda and through cunning secret diplomacy at the hands of such masters as the crafty Balfour and wily Lloyd George she will get it by other means. If the United States continues to challenge British supremacy in the markets of the world British cunning and resourcefulness will find ways and means to remove the United States as a competitor.

The Capital Times has no desire to be a British baiter. We are, however, for this country,—first, last and all the time. We cannot subscribe to the propaganda that is seeking to direct all currents in this country in a way to suit the purposes and plans of the imperialistic rulers of Great Britain.

Do You Remember When?

Do you remember when the University gymnasium stood back of Main hall, now Bascom hall. It was a one story wooden affair, heated by stoves, and hot in summer and freezing cold in winter. One June night in 1891 it mysteriously caught fire and burned to the ground. Every person who was suspected had a wonderful alibi, so the fire was disposed of as blessing from the skies.—H. H. M.

Do you remember the snow storm of March 1882? The snow was so deep on Langdon street that for weeks afterwards you drove through tunnels dug in the drifts. Now when you have a little fall of snow the average property owner lets nature melt it off and shoveling snow is a lost art.—1882.

Do you remember when Turner hall used to blossom out each spring with a week's stand of some well known repertoire company that always played "East Lynne" by request once at least during the week and prices were given away.—"Old Timer."

Do you remember when students enrolled at the University actually attended classes at which the heads of departments taught. Turner and Haskins in history, Ely in Poly Con., Freeman in literature, Frankenberg, Parkinson and other men who went to make Madison famous. Even President Birge used to have classes in those days and a student actually knew who his instructors were and the professors knew the students. This was before the days when to be a successful professor you had to write a book and have it published and then sell it to the students as a text-book. Men were valued for brains and teaching ability, not for the art of writing a book and making money on the side at state expense.—"U. W. '93."

Voice of the People

AS TO FARM HELP

[To the Editor]—First of all my subscription for another year, enclosed find check. Then let me ask Frank J. Weber whether he honestly believes the unemployed really want employment. Here is my experience for the last two months. Can commence my song further back, but this will suffice. Had an advertisement for farm help in a Milwaukee paper to which 11 responded. We only needed one, but got busy and in less than a day found positions for the others. They all promised to come, but only one showed up. One of our neighbors secured one through the Madison bureau, remained one month. Now he is alone on a large farm. His brother-in-law, commenced Tuesday morning and asked his boss to be taken back to the station, a distance of 16 miles, on Friday. I can find work for a number in a short time, to be sure we can not afford to pay $1.00 per hour for a 6 hour day, take them to a movie every evening, and pay their ticket, neither can we bring their breakfast to their bed. We can afford to pay them fair wages for work honestly rendered, good board and good treatment. Might add that last summer we had one, that the first day instead of mowing weeds he sat under a shady tree. I asked him if thought he could earn his board; he answered, if you don't like it, do it yourself.—Henry A. Ochauer, Plain, Wis.

On the Side

One of the state board of visitors of the university here on Tuesday stated that she felt extremely hurt when she learned that Dean Selleny of the College of Letters and Science, gave afternoon teas to members of his department and had never asked her. "I just love tea and cakes served only as an Englishman knows how to serve them," she is quoted as saying.

In the early days there was a railroad in Tennessee which allowed its conductors to make their own rules affecting the traveling public.

Sometimes one conductor had rules in direct conflict with the other. One of the conductors would permit passengers to take their dogs into the coaches with them. The conductor running opposite would not allow a dog on his train, not even in the baggage car.

One day some hunters, returning to the city, met the conductor who would not allow a dog to ride on his train. When the train left the station the dogs followed tied to the train, and had no difficulty in keeping up with it. When the engineer saw what was happening he was highly incensed over the disrespect shown to his train.

"Watch your old dog when we start down grade," he roared, "and see what happens to him. You think you are making fun of my train."

A little later, when on the down grade, the conductor approached the rear platform, and not seeing the dog called to the owner: "Now tell me, please, what has become of your dog." "Right here," retorted the passenger, pointing to a big hole in the floor of the coach, "see him under there? He just came under the coach to trot along in the shade."

Treasury Agent Clinton B. Ballard has just received an opinion of the attorney general that vaudeville entertainers having animal acts, monkeys are particularly named, must take out a state license before giving their entertainments in the state. The question rises will the Committee of Forty Four be required to take out a special license next June when they hold their convention. They plan to select candidates to defeat LaFollette and Blaine and certainly it will be a "monkey and parrot of a time."

"My name, sir," said the brisk caller, "is Opportunity." "Glad to know you, Opportunity," said Mr. Glipping, with an air equally alert, "but you are not playing the part according to precedent." "How's that, sir?" "You came in without knocking."

IN DEFENSE OF JAZZ

If you will read your paper you will notice that it has a lot of things to say about the people who jazz. I don't approve or disapprove of how they dance today, but if there's cause for criticism, I'd like to say: Don't blame it all on the music. Because the music is not to blame; There was no jazz music back in history; Still, Cleopatra made a mark of Antony. They had no saxophones with jazz tones. When people lived in house made of stones. And those cave-dwelling men They were much wilder than Without any music at all.

—Irving Berlin.

With a salvage corps working on one side of them in the ruins of the Kornhauser company, a genuine fire sale going on in the Hub Clothing Company on the other side, can Fisher Brothers, cigar merchants, advertise a "Smoke Sale?"

"Man wants but little here below."

He wants his meals cooked just right, and composed of the particular things he likes to eat. He wants his clothes kept in perfect order, and the buttons sewed on. He wants to get up when he gets ready, and then he wants to swear because he misses his usual car. He wants to be grouchy when he comes home and not have it mentioned. He wants to leave his coat and hat and shoes just where he happens to take them off when he comes in. He wants his slippers right in a certain place where he can find them without effort. He wants to put the ashes from his cigar in the most convenient place while he smokes. He wants to yawn and go to bed when his wife wants him to go out with her and make a call. He wants everything just as he wants it, and he wants no talk about it.

QUITE A JOKE

Every one in the village is laughing about the wedding of Cyrus Spellman and Clara Whipple. They went to Denver on their honeymoon and visited three weeks with Mr. Spellman's relatives, and when they got back Town Clerk Hale discovered that he had accidentally given them an automobile license instead of a marriage license. They got married over again, but it was quite a joke on them.—Bitter Creek (Colo.) Journal.

Madison entertained the State Bowling association recently and two Madison teams won the first two money prizes. The question is what brand caused the slump in the visiting teams or was the use of the fluids they used for training purposes they brought from home not as good as the "Made in Madison" variety?

When again Sawyer stood on the dock and reported that after two cash boxes were hopelessly engulfed in the mud, Lee sternly bade him divest himself of the diving suit with reasonable celerity.

"What you goin' to do?" asked Finn, coming up.

"Is it your place to ask questions?" said Lee sharply. "Obey orders or you'll regret it!" "He's goin' down himself," whispered Dyce to Sawyer. The diver cast a savage glance at Lee and hesitated.

"Take off that suit," repeated Lee.

Finn, scowling with anger, attempted to speak, but Lee turned on him and bade him be silent.

Slowly Sawyer divested himself of the clumsy suit; one by one the other he pushed the leaden-soled shoes from him. Lee watched him with mixed emotions. He had gone too far to go back now—he understood that. Flinching at such a moment means chaos in the quarry, and he knew that the last shred of his authority would go if he hesitated. Yet with all his heart and soul he shrank from going down into the sea. What might not such men do? Dyce held the life line.

A moment or two of suffocation would such men hesitate. Accidents are so easily to prove, and accidents may be easily misunderstood. He laid a brace of heavy revolvers on the dock and smiled.

As Dyce lifted the heavy helmet upon his shoulders, he caught a last glimpse of sunlight and blue sky and green leaves—a brief vision of dark, brutal faces—of Helen Pine's colorless frightened face. Then he felt himself on the dock ladder, then a thousand tons seemed to fall from his feet, and the dusky ocean enveloped him.

On the dump-dock silence reigned. After a moment or two Finn whispered to Sawyer: "Dyce joined the group; he's white as a sheet and under his brick-red sunburn and pretended to fuss at his engine."

Helen Pine, heart beating furiously, watched them. She did not know what they were going to do—what they were doing now with the air tubes. She did not understand such things, but she saw a line switch in Dyce's fingers, and she saw murder in Finn's eyes.

Before she knew what she was doing she found herself clutching both of Lee's revolvers.

Finn saw her and stood petrified; Dyce gaped at the leveled muzzles. Nobody moved.

After a little while the line in Dyce's hand twitched violently; Finn started and swore, Sawyer said distinctly, "Out that line."

The next instant she fired at him point-blank, and he dropped to the bleached boards with a howl of dismay. The crack of the revolver echoed and echoed among the rocks, a silence that startled followed.

Presently behind his engine, Farrelly began to laugh; two quarrymen near him got up and shambled hastily away.

"Draw him up!" gasped the girl, with a desperate glance at the water.

Finn, the foreman, cursed and flung down his lines, and walked away cursing.

Sawyer, stupid, clutching his shattered forearm, never removed his eyes from her face; Dyce unscrewed the helmet, shaking with fright.

"There, you lying blackguard!" gasped Lee, pointing to the recovered cash box. "Take them all to my office, where I'll settle with you once and for all. I'll find the other tomorrow."

Nobody replied. Lee, flushed with excitement and triumph, stripped off his diving dress before he became aware that something beside his own episode had occurred. Then he saw Letty Sawyer, bearded with blood, staring with sick, surprised eyes at somebody—a woman, who sat huddled on a heap of sun-dried sleepers, sun bonnet fallen back, cocked revolver in either hand, and in her dark eyes, tears that flowed silently over her colorless cheeks.

He glared at Dyce.

"Ask her," muttered Dyce doggedly.

He turned toward Helen, but Farrelly behind his engine, shouted: "Faith she stood off the gang, or the breathin' below 'ud ha' choked ye! Thank the lass, lad, an' mind she's a fisher whin ya get worritin' the fishes for the company's cash box!"

That night Lee made a speech at the quarry. The men listened placidly. Dyce, amazed that he was not discharged, went back to nurse Sawyer, a thoroughly cowed man. Noonan, Farrelly, and Phelan retired to their shanty and got fighting drunk to the health of the "colleen wid' the gun"; the rest of the men went away with wholesome convictions concerning their superintendent that promised better things.

"Didn't fire Dyce—no he didn't," was the whispered comment.

Lee's policy had done its work. As for the murderous mover of the plot, the plausible foreman, Finn, he had shown the white feather.

er under fire and he knew the men might kill him on sight. It's an Irish characteristic under such circumstances.

Lee walked back from the quarry, realizing his triumph, recognizing that he owed it neither to his foolhardy impulse, nor yet to his money to Dyce and Sawyer. He went to the house and knocked at Helen's door. She was not there. He sat alone in his office, absently playing with pen and ruler until the June moon rose over the ocean and yellow sparkles flashed among the waves. An hour later he went to the dock, and found her sitting there alone in the moonlight.

She did not repulse him. Her innocent hour had come, and she knew it, for she had read such things in romance. It came, but she was too much in love, too sincere, to use a setting so dramatic. She told him she loved him, she told him why she had come to the Porte-of-Waves, why she had remembered the kiss and the promise. She asked her head on at his shoulder, smaller and more silvery now. She was contented.

Under the dock the dark waves lapped musically. Under the dock Finn, stripped to the skin, plunged silently downward for the last cash box, trusting to sense of touch to find the safe.

But what he found was too horrible for words.

"Hark," whispered Helen; "did you hear something splash?"

Lee looked out into the moonlight; a shadow, a black triangular fin, cut the silvery surface, sheered hither and thither—circled, sheered seaward and was lost. Then came another splash, far out among the waves.

"The Collector of the Porte," said Lee; "he is making merry in the moonlight."

THE FARMER'S FRIEND.
The Lenroot press in Wisconsin is making much of the fact that Senator Lenroot voted for a bill which the farmers wanted. People have been wondering why it was doing so much for the farmer that one of fifty-eight to vote for a bill which was opposed by one senator. Perhaps the answer lies in the following statement in a Washington dispatch in The New York Tribune:

"Senators Lenroot and Kellenburger, though invited into the organization, have virtually had aloof from it."
This refers to the farm bill which is backing legislation the farmers want and which is opposed by the standpat crowd.

START A RESTAURANT

Get a dozen eggs, a pumpkin pie, a loaf of bread, a pound of butter, a cash register and a box of paper napkins and start a chain of restaurants. The public has learned how to make this sort of business profitable. You can retail such wares at 20 cents each, and a profit of 350 per cent. For every razor you can cut the profit into twelve pieces and retail the pieces at 20 cents each, and the pie will bring you $2.00, and the bread a profit of 1,000 per cent. You can get 81 out of every loaf of bread by serving two small slices of toast for 10 cents. It is rising every day, and so far as the fare is concerned the public simply eats it up.

Timely Views Not In The News

"OLD LAW OF LIFE DOES NOT HOLD TODAY," SAYS 99-YEAR-OLD HEALTH LEADER

"We have too long been content with the false code of the Mosaic law that limits life to 'three score years and ten,' with a possibility of reaching four score years." Dr. Stephen Smith, founder of the New York state and national boards of health, who was ninety-nine a few days ago, said on his birthday.

"The falsity of this law was verified by Moses himself," continued Dr. Smith. "He lived forty years over his allotted time, and died apparently in good health, for it is written 'His eye was undimmed and his natural force unabated.' In view of the evidence of a great awakening of the people of the entire country to the importance of health—as their first duty, to secure—I would suggest that we seize upon the present opportunity of placing the public health standard on a scientific basis. We are living under entirely different conditions from Moses, with a basic principle of life fixed by the unalterable precision of science. Biology teaches that the normal and potential life of man is 100 years; that every child born is adapted in physical construction and function to live a century. We must therefore infer that in the natural order of life all deaths occurring at an earlier age are due to conditions existing which are not compatible with the construction and functions of the human organisms. In these scientific facts we find our present duties and opportunities. We should inaugurate the new era in life saving by moving our standard for the length of life forward thirty years."
